

BEST SPORTING PAGE IN NEW YORK

THIS PICTURE NEEDS NO TITLE

Copyright, 1918, by The Press Publishing Co. (The New York Evening World).

By Thornton Fisher

Jack Dempsey and His Manager Kearns Have Decided to Help Out the War Fund Drive Saturday Night.

Copyright, 1918, by The Press Publishing Co. (The New York Evening World).

JACK DEMPSEY, or rather his manager, Jack Kearns, has come through. He will fight for the War Fund show at Madison Square Garden Saturday night PROVIDING Jim Coffroth, the Director General of the nation wide drive, can get him an opponent. And believe us Coffroth will get him an opponent, even if he has to search the various cantonments for one. Dempsey will even fight two men—the best among the soldiers and the best among the sailors. It may not, however, be necessary to dig out two such men, who would be more or less unknown. Coffroth may be able to get some one with a reputation as a pugilist. At any rate Dempsey will be one of the many stars at the Garden show and he will be there to fight and not box an exhibition. No one cares whether he wins or loses, but he will be a good cause as the United War Work Fund drive New York is entitled to the privilege of seeing him in genuine battle.

PERHAPS we were a little too severe with Kearns and Dempsey yesterday when we intimated that they were ducking. Instead, we learn from Mr. Coffroth they were almost beyond expression and there is a marked difference between the two pastimes. Kearns phoned Coffroth Monday night to that effect as an explanation and we are further pleased to learn that the army and navy boys comfortable. Fairness is our watchword.

GETTING an opponent for Dempsey, however, isn't as easy as one might suppose. All the big fellows with reputations are inclined to side step him or are matched elsewhere. Anyhow they don't want to be knocked out.

Joe Jeannette, the colored heavyweight, has expressed a desire to meet Jack, but Jack may be pardoned for not wanting to take him on. Like Willard, Dempsey doesn't want to create a precedent of fighting a colored man. If he did now he might later be asked to meet Harry Williams, another colored fighter, after he succeeds Willard as the champion. He isn't afraid of any of them and possibly would win as easily as he would a white contender. It is simply a matter of principle with him.

Coffroth will institute a search for an opponent for Dempsey. Jack will meet him no matter who he may be. The poor fellow, we are sorry for him, but the bout will show Dempsey to New Yorkers and add thousands to the Garden's gate receipts Saturday night.

Coffroth is telling us that Fred Fulton in San Francisco and against no less a pugilistic personage than Willie McEachan. It will be remembered that McEachan got credit, not an injury, for giving Dempsey a lambasting on the Coast, and if he is as good as that Fulton is in for a merry time.

Coffroth had hopes of getting either Fulton or McEachan to fight Dempsey, but as long as the card is in Franco, he sees no reason why he should "bust" it up. This bout will add something like $20,000 to the cause, and that is quite satisfactory.

We can readily imagine how Fulton will try to upset Mr. McEachan. If he can knock out the poly-poly heavyweight, McEachan couldn't do, the feat will put Fred back in the heavyweight championship running.

AN unfortunate conflict with a football game has compelled the directors of the military trap-shooting exhibition of the United War Work campaign to shift from their scheduled date of Nov. 13 at the Polo Grounds to the New York A. C. range at Travers Island, on Nov. 15. A great competition between champion trapshooters and exhibitions of fancy marksmanship would have been a big hit in the sportsman Polo Grounds location convenient to the travelling public, if for no other reason than it would have been a novelty to New Yorkers.

THE FIGHTERS MUST FIGHT NEXT SATURDAY NIGHT OR GET OUT AND GIVE ANOTHER GUY A CHANCE.

Fistic News and Gossip

By John Pollock

Judging by the vast amount of interest which is being taken in the big boxing show for the benefit of the United War Work Campaign Fund at the Army in Madison Square Garden, tonight, many thousands of dollars will be realized. The Police and Fire Department officials of the city have charge of the entertainment and the Governor of the State gave permission to hold the event in the armory. Ten six-round bouts, all real fights, are down on the card for decision. Clay Turner vs. Larry Williams, Johnny Dundee vs. Louis Bogush, Willie Jackson vs. Leo Johnson, Kid Norfolk vs. George Robertson, Benny Valger vs. Irving Margolis, Battling Reddy vs. K. O. Eggers, Barney Adair vs. Phil Bloom and other contests.

Middleweight, the Chicago middleweight and attached to Uncle Sam's navy, has just returned from a trip overseas. Eddie says that he met Joe Bonetti, the Philadelphia fighter, in a two-round bout in Paris a few weeks ago and was awarded the decision by the referee. He claims he was only given three days' notice in which to prepare for the fight, but the hard work put him in good shape for the bout.

Tom McEachan, manager of Freddie Henne, the Brooklyn lightweight and also manager of Charlie Benson, Leonard, today signed to meet Joe Bonetti, the Philadelphia fighter, in a two-round bout in Paris a few weeks ago and was awarded the decision by the referee. He claims he was only given three days' notice in which to prepare for the fight, but the hard work put him in good shape for the bout.

Billy Whelan, the St. Paul lightweight, Ritchie Mitchell, the crack lightweight of Milwaukee and Pal Moore, the fast little bantamweight of Memphis, Tenn., are now on their way to London, where they will go against good English boxers in bouts at the Kings boxing carnival to be held there on Dec. 11 and 12. Harry Greb is another fighter who will make the trip, and he will probably take on Vernon Clemens.

Frankie Burke, the popular little Jersey City fighter who knocked out Johnny Ertle in the seventh round in Washington on Saturday night, was matched today to meet Jack Sharkey, the local bantamweight, in an eight-round bout at the Army A. C. of Jersey City Heights on Monday evening, Nov. 25. Promoter Joe Bonetti has agreed to give Joe Wagner, manager of Sharkey, 60 per cent of the receipts and he is to get the balance out of the gate.

Charles White, the Chicago lightweight, has just been detailed by the War Department to teach boxing to the students of the U. S. A. C. at Northwestern University. This is the first time that a boxing instructor has been assigned to that position at a college. White has had a varied experience as boxing instructor. He has been shifted four times since his first appointment.

The main bout at the next show of the Olympia A. A. of Philadelphia on Monday night will be between Jack Dempsey and Jack Clifford, the Brooklyn Joe Grim. The club officials tried to get Bartley Madden to meet Dempsey, but as Madden demanded $1,000 for his end he was quickly dropped, and Clifford substituted. Clifford will probably get about $100 for his end, which is small money for taking Dempsey's place on the card.

Harry Williams, who is regarded as the best colored heavyweight in the business now, has been matched for Saturday night. His opponent will be Jack Thompson, the big colored fighter of Philadelphia. They were booked up today by Herman Taylor of Philadelphia to clash in the star bout of eight rounds at the Atlantic City Sporting Club on Friday night. The new put up a great bout in "Pittsburgh" a few months ago.

Now that the war is over, the police authorities of Baltimore will probably give permission to Sammy Harris and Henry Blatter, the boxing champions of that city, to stage boxing bouts again. The game has been closed down for several months, as the authorities thought it best not to conduct any shows during the period of the war. The future of the game will have to wait until the future of the game is decided.

A match will most likely be arranged today between Harry Pierce, the hard hitting lightweight of Brooklyn, and Frankie Nelson, the promising lightweight fighter, Jack Jennings, manager of the Army A. C. of Jersey City Heights is after the bout for his show on Monday night and he has already signed up Pierce for his main event.

Nelson's manager will also sign for his main event.

JACK KEARNS DOESN'T NEED A MAP TO CHOOSE THE RIGHT ROAD FOR DEMPSEY.

Athletic Meet To-Night For United War Fund at 47th Regiment Armory

Homer Baker to Come Out of Retirement for These Games in Brooklyn.

By Alex Sullivan.

THERE will be many interesting athletic events decided to-night in the 47th Regiment Armory, Brooklyn, for the United War Work Fund. One of the real features will be the return to competition of Homer S. Baker, half-mile champion three years ago, after a year's absence from sport. The meet is being jointly conducted by the Knights of St. Anthony and the Loughlin Lyceum.

A one-mile relay race between Loughlin Lyceum and Knights of St. Anthony will thrill those who attend. In the final leg of this event, C. Shaughnessy, junior and senior outdoor national champion, at the distance, representing the Knights, and Jimmy O'Brien, considered the best middle distance man of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

Big Bill Edwards, who has been in the United States Army, will also be in the race. He is a former champion of the local associations, representing Loughlin Lyceum, will struggle to bring victory to their respective organizations.

"Pro" Golfers in Close Foursome

In a four-ball professional golf match over the St. Andrews Golf Club course, near Mount Hope, Tom Kerrigan and Tom McNamara, of Siwanoy, defeated George Thompson, Mount Vernon Country Club, and Edna Horton, St. Andrews, by the score of 2 up, with a best ball of 71 to 73.

No less than twelve of the holes were halved in par. Four of the other six were won in one stroke under par. Tom McNamara had the best individual score of 35-37-75, with two holes of 2 each to his credit, although he also had his bad luck, as he took a 5 on the seventh hole, which was halved in 4 and a 6 on the ninth hole, was won in the par of 5.

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 13.—The first match round of the Carolina tournament was played at Pinehurst with the interest centered in the contest between C. L. Becker of Philadelphia and Franklin Gates of Hoffman, who had tied for the qualifying medal. Becker defeated Gates by 1 up after going out in 32. Incidentally Becker annexed the qualifying medal by finishing 2 strokes under Gates's medal score.

The big surprise was the sudden improvement in form that Omar Khayyam displayed. For a month past he has been beaten regularly by selling-players. On Nov. 7 Max Hefers won easily by four lengths, after leading all the way, and Gloomy Gus beat the "Persian Poet" half a length for the place.

In the face of all his bad performances Omar Khayyam is beaten a small margin in track record time. He beat the old record. His change in form was in keeping with that of his stablemate, Westy Hogan, at Saratoga this summer. After running like a lame goat he jumped out the following day and beat a fine field of handicap horses.

If a "killing" was meant with Omar Khayyam it was spoiled. George Smith killed it at the finish. Before the start the "coug" was crippled by the action of the handicapper for the mutuels. He placed Omar Khayyam in the field with several other also ran horses. This spoiled all chance for a big price.

Jack McAuliffe, the only boxer who ever retired from the prize ring with a world's championship, and who is now in France as a Knight of Columbus secretary, writes a very interesting letter to John B. Kennedy, director of the K. of C. public bureau, Waltham Building, New York.

"The war will be over before Thanksgiving," says Jack. "Our boys have the German beaten to a fare-thee-well. Every boy in our service is a champion, and they are winning hands down. However, there's more work for us here after the war than there is during the war, because after the Germans surrender it will be a big task to provide entertainment for our two million boys."

"It's going to take a long time before the boys are all sent back home. I think that it will take two years, with the reconstruction work they will be ordered to do and everything. I've already put on some fancy boxing shows for the boys. They certainly love the sport. I predict that when the war is over that the lace-well are over there fighting for their country will exercise enough influence with the Government to permit boxing nationally. I hear my friend Jimmy Teyford is on his way here. He'll find plenty to do when he does arrive."

McAuliffe calls Turn on War

Jack McAuliffe, the only boxer who ever retired from the prize ring with a world's championship, and who is now in France as a Knight of Columbus secretary, writes a very interesting letter to John B. Kennedy, director of the K. of C. public bureau, Waltham Building, New York.

"The war will be over before Thanksgiving," says Jack. "Our boys have the German beaten to a fare-thee-well. Every boy in our service is a champion, and they are winning hands down. However, there's more work for us here after the war than there is during the war, because after the Germans surrender it will be a big task to provide entertainment for our two million boys."

"It's going to take a long time before the boys are all sent back home. I think that it will take two years, with the reconstruction work they will be ordered to do and everything. I've already put on some fancy boxing shows for the boys. They certainly love the sport. I predict that when the war is over that the lace-well are over there fighting for their country will exercise enough influence with the Government to permit boxing nationally. I hear my friend Jimmy Teyford is on his way here. He'll find plenty to do when he does arrive."

McAuliffe calls Turn on War

Jack McAuliffe, the only boxer who ever retired from the prize ring with a world's championship, and who is now in France as a Knight of Columbus secretary, writes a very interesting letter to John B. Kennedy, director of the K. of C. public bureau, Waltham Building, New York.

"The war will be over before Thanksgiving," says Jack. "Our boys have the German beaten to a fare-thee-well. Every boy in our service is a champion, and they are winning hands down. However, there's more work for us here after the war than there is during the war, because after the Germans surrender it will be a big task to provide entertainment for our two million boys."

"It's going to take a long time before the boys are all sent back home. I think that it will take two years, with the reconstruction work they will be ordered to do and everything. I've already put on some fancy boxing shows for the boys. They certainly love the sport. I predict that when the war is over that the lace-well are over there fighting for their country will exercise enough influence with the Government to permit boxing nationally. I hear my friend Jimmy Teyford is on his way here. He'll find plenty to do when he does arrive."

McAuliffe calls Turn on War

Jack McAuliffe, the only boxer who ever retired from the prize ring with a world's championship, and who is now in France as a Knight of Columbus secretary, writes a very interesting letter to John B. Kennedy, director of the K. of C. public bureau, Waltham Building, New York.

"The war will be over before Thanksgiving," says Jack. "Our boys have the German beaten to a fare-thee-well. Every boy in our service is a champion, and they are winning hands down. However, there's more work for us here after the war than there is during the war, because after the Germans surrender it will be a big task to provide entertainment for our two million boys."

"It's going to take a long time before the boys are all sent back home. I think that it will take two years, with the reconstruction work they will be ordered to do and everything. I've already put on some fancy boxing shows for the boys. They certainly love the sport. I predict that when the war is over that the lace-well are over there fighting for their country will exercise enough influence with the Government to permit boxing nationally. I hear my friend Jimmy Teyford is on his way here. He'll find plenty to do when he does arrive."

McAuliffe calls Turn on War

Jack McAuliffe, the only boxer who ever retired from the prize ring with a world's championship, and who is now in France as a Knight of Columbus secretary, writes a very interesting letter to John B. Kennedy, director of the K. of C. public bureau, Waltham Building, New York.

"The war will be over before Thanksgiving," says Jack. "Our boys have the German beaten to a fare-thee-well. Every boy in our service is a champion, and they are winning hands down. However, there's more work for us here after the war than there is during the war, because after the Germans surrender it will be a big task to provide entertainment for our two million boys."

"It's going to take a long time before the boys are all sent back home. I think that it will take two years, with the reconstruction work they will be ordered to do and everything. I've already put on some fancy boxing shows for the boys. They certainly love the sport. I predict that when the war is over that the lace-well are over there fighting for their country will exercise enough influence with the Government to permit boxing nationally. I hear my friend Jimmy Teyford is on his way here. He'll find plenty to do when he does arrive."

McAuliffe calls Turn on War

Jack McAuliffe, the only boxer who ever retired from the prize ring with a world's championship, and who is now in France as a Knight of Columbus secretary, writes a very interesting letter to John B. Kennedy, director of the K. of C. public bureau, Waltham Building, New York.

"The war will be over before Thanksgiving," says Jack. "Our boys have the German beaten to a fare-thee-well. Every boy in our service is a champion, and they are winning hands down. However, there's more work for us here after the war than there is during the war, because after the Germans surrender it will be a big task to provide entertainment for our two million boys."

"It's going to take a long time before the boys are all sent back home. I think that it will take two years, with the reconstruction work they will be ordered to do and everything. I've already put on some fancy boxing shows for the boys. They certainly love the sport. I predict that when the war is over that the lace-well are over there fighting for their country will exercise enough influence with the Government to permit boxing nationally. I hear my friend Jimmy Teyford is on his way here. He'll find plenty to do when he does arrive."

McAuliffe calls Turn on War

Jack McAuliffe, the only boxer who ever retired from the prize ring with a world's championship, and who is now in France as a Knight of Columbus secretary, writes a very interesting letter to John B. Kennedy, director of the K. of C. public bureau, Waltham Building, New York.

"The war will be over before Thanksgiving," says Jack. "Our boys have the German beaten to a fare-thee-well. Every boy in our service is a champion, and they are winning hands down. However, there's more work for us here after the war than there is during the war, because after the Germans surrender it will be a big task to provide entertainment for our two million boys."

"It's going to take a long time before the boys are all sent back home. I think that it will take two years, with the reconstruction work they will be ordered to do and everything. I've already put on some fancy boxing shows for the boys. They certainly love the sport. I predict that when the war is over that the lace-well are over there fighting for their country will exercise enough influence with the Government to permit boxing nationally. I hear my friend Jimmy Teyford is on his way here. He'll find plenty to do when he does arrive."

McAuliffe calls Turn on War

Jack McAuliffe, the only boxer who ever retired from the prize ring with a world's championship, and who is now in France as a Knight of Columbus secretary, writes a very interesting letter to John B. Kennedy, director of the K. of C. public bureau, Waltham Building, New York.

"The war will be over before Thanksgiving," says Jack. "Our boys have the German beaten to a fare-thee-well. Every boy in our service is a champion, and they are winning hands down. However, there's more work for us here after the war than there is during the war, because after the Germans surrender it will be a big task to provide entertainment for our two million boys."

"It's going to take a long time before the boys are all sent back home. I think that it will take two years, with the reconstruction work they will be ordered to do and everything. I've already put on some fancy boxing shows for the boys. They certainly love the sport. I predict that when the war is over that the lace-well are over there fighting for their country will exercise enough influence with the Government to permit boxing nationally. I hear my friend Jimmy Teyford is on his way here. He'll find plenty to do when he does arrive."

McAuliffe calls Turn on War

Jack McAuliffe, the only boxer who ever retired from the prize ring with a world's championship, and who is now in France as a Knight of Columbus secretary, writes a very interesting letter to John B. Kennedy, director of the K. of C. public bureau, Waltham Building, New York.

"The war will be over before Thanksgiving," says Jack. "Our boys have the German beaten to a fare-thee-well. Every boy in our service is a champion, and they are winning hands down. However, there's more work for us here after the war than there is during the war, because after the Germans surrender it will be a big task to provide entertainment for our two million boys."

"It's going to take a long time before the boys are all sent back home. I think that it will take two years, with the reconstruction work they will be ordered to do and everything. I've already put on some fancy boxing shows for the boys. They certainly love the sport. I predict that when the war is over that the lace-well are over there fighting for their country will exercise enough influence with the Government to permit boxing nationally. I hear my friend Jimmy Teyford is on his way here. He'll find plenty to do when he does arrive."

McAuliffe calls Turn on War

Jack McAuliffe, the only boxer who ever retired from the prize ring with a world's championship, and who is now in France as a Knight of Columbus secretary, writes a very interesting letter to John B. Kennedy, director of the K. of C. public bureau, Waltham Building, New York.

"The war will be over before Thanksgiving," says Jack. "Our boys have the German beaten to a fare-thee-well. Every boy in our service is a champion, and they are winning hands down. However, there's more work for us here after the war than there is during the war, because after the Germans surrender it will be a big task to provide entertainment for our two million boys."

"It's going to take a long time before the boys are all sent back home. I think that it will take two years, with the reconstruction work they will be ordered to do and everything. I've already put on some fancy boxing shows for the boys. They certainly love the sport. I predict that when the war is over that the lace-well are over there fighting for their country will exercise enough influence with the Government to permit boxing nationally. I hear my friend Jimmy Teyford is on his way here. He'll find plenty to do when he does arrive."

McAuliffe calls Turn on War

Jack McAuliffe, the only boxer who ever retired from the prize ring with a world's championship, and who is now in France as a Knight of Columbus secretary, writes a very interesting letter to John B. Kennedy, director of the K. of C. public bureau, Waltham Building, New York.

"The war will be over before Thanksgiving," says Jack. "Our boys have the German beaten to a fare-thee-well. Every boy in our service is a champion, and they are winning hands down. However, there's more work for us here after the war than there is during the war, because after the Germans surrender it will be a big task to provide entertainment for our two million boys."

"It's going to take a long time before the boys are all sent back home. I think that it will take two years, with the reconstruction work they will be ordered to do and everything. I've already put on some fancy boxing shows for the boys. They certainly love the sport. I predict that when the war is over that the lace-well are over there fighting for their country will exercise enough influence with the Government to permit boxing nationally. I hear my friend Jimmy Teyford is on his way here. He'll find plenty to do when he does arrive."

McAuliffe calls Turn on War

Jack McAuliffe, the only boxer who ever retired from the prize ring with a world's championship, and who is now in France as a Knight of Columbus secretary, writes a very interesting letter to John B. Kennedy, director of the K. of C. public bureau, Waltham Building, New York.

"The war will be over before Thanksgiving," says Jack. "Our boys have the German beaten to a fare-thee-well. Every boy in our service is a champion, and they are winning hands down. However, there's more work for us here after the war than there is during the war, because after the Germans surrender it will be a big task to provide entertainment for our two million boys."

"It's going to take a long time before the boys are all sent back home. I think that it will take two years, with the reconstruction work they will be ordered to do and everything. I've already put on some fancy boxing shows for the boys. They certainly love the sport. I predict that when the war is over that the lace-well are over there fighting for their country will exercise enough influence with the Government to permit boxing nationally. I hear my friend Jimmy Teyford is on his way here. He'll find plenty to do when he does arrive."

Mc